French and Spanish

IGCSE French/Spanish

This course will allow you to be fully prepared for the examination in May. It is designed to prepare the four skills which are reading, writing, speaking, and listening in the different areas such as "Everyday activities", "Personal and Social Life", "The world of work" and the "International world".

The examination board that we follow is Cambridge International Examinations. Although, we are adapting our practices to CIE, it does not impede you to follow our program. The topics as well as the grammar points are similar to any other examination board.

To be fully prepared, you need to dedicate two years to this program. However, if you show exceptional language skills, you may be able to prepare it in only one year.

The course can be taken from 2 hours per week to 4 hours per week. One hour every day for 4 days or two days a week being: Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday.

AS/A level French/Spanish

In this course, you are looking at studying French/Spanish more in depth. At this level, we ask more from the students as they must be able to converse, argue, and justify in writing as well as speaking. You also learn more about the culture and the French speaking countries.

This course is available to students who wish to get a higher level of French/Spanish or would like to present take the examinations in May/ June.

In order to enter that course, you have to show a level (I)GCSE or an IGCSE certificate. If you think you have the knowledge and skills to enter this course, we can provide a test of level to confirm your abilities.

English

KET Cambridge English

KET (A2) is a basic level of English that will allow you to have a simple and basic conversation, in simple situations. The exam is looking to assess the four skills, which are listening, writing, speaking and reading.

Exams are available nearly every month and examination centres are well spread in many countries.

In order to enter that course, you need a basic knowledge of English, but if you think you are a fast learner, you can probably grasp the language quickly and enter as a beginner. If you are not sure of your level, we can always provide you with a Cambridge test.

The examination for KET is Cambridge International Examinations.

To be fully prepared, you would need an academic year (full time: 4 hours per week) and if you show exceptional language skills, you can probably take the examination in May/June.

The course can be taken from 2 hours per week to 4 hours per week. One hour every day for 4 days or two days a week being: Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday.
